General: Tonight started off very well with high energy. We started the show at 8:01pm when right before the actors stepped on stage the fire alarms went off. SM over the God Mic asked everyone to evacuate as calm and quickly as possible. SM with the help of Wardrobe helped clear out the building within 2 minutes and get everyone backed away. When the University Police arrived, Christine, PSM, went inside with the officer to explain the haze and approved dates we have for the show. One of the fire alarms was left active in back of house in front of the SM booth. House Management contacted facilities. SM called Catherine Doherty to alert her of the situation. We were let back into the building about 8:36 pm. It looked like most, if not all of the audience stayed. Once everyone was back to their seats, Christine made an announcement over the God Mic and we restarted the show from the top of the “Announcement” at 8:43pm. The show ran very well. Everyone was extremely focused and concentrated after the excitement of the fire alarms so Act 1 ran quicker than normal. Adam Abdelaziz had no voice tonight. SM made sure to have water for him all night after every scene. Act 2 ran smoothly as well. Upon leaving the theatre tonight, the fire alarm went off again for only 2 minutes around 11:22 pm. SM were the only ones left in the building about to leave. SM contacted Russ Thompson just to inform him and were given the okay to lock up and head home.
